Feeding the Dairy Cow in Winter

Next to what to feed, the most important question which arises is, how much shall the cow be fed. To feed economically cows should be fed as individuals and not as a herd. It is too often the case that each cow in a herd is fed the same amount of grain regardless of how much milk she is producing. By this practice feed is not used economically as some cows will be underfed, while others will be overfed.

In feeding animals one should understand that the animal always uses a certain amount of the food it receives to maintain the body. This is the first use to which the food is put and is called the ration of maintenance. This amount is required by the animal whether she is producing milk or not. All feed given above this amount is used for milk production, or is stored on the body of the animal as fat. In the case of a young animal part of this excess is used for growth.

Of the two mistakes made in feeding perhaps the one of underfeeding is the more common. It is a very serious mistake to feed a cow only that required to keep up her body, and then not feed her enough in addition to produce what milk she can. If a cow declines in weight while giving milk, it shows she is not receiving sufficient food, as a good cow if not fed enough will produce milk for a time at the expense of her body; that is, she will take the surplus flesh from her body and convert it over into milk and thereby will lose in live weight. On the other hand, when a cow is being overfed it may be detected in a short time by the fact that she will put on flesh. This condition may be corrected by giving her only the amount she needs and will use for milk production. This means feeding enough to maintain practically a uniform weight.

In feeding a cow the place to begin is with the roughness. A cow is not contented unless her stomach is full. She should always have all the roughness that she will eat up clean and then the amount of grain she receives should be regulated by the amount of milk produced. A dry cow in good condition should be fed roughness only and does not need any grain. In feeding grain to cows producing milk the following rule may be used and it is found to work out fairly well. Feed one pound of grain for each three pounds or three pints of milk produced. A Jersey cow producing very rich milk may need a little more grain than the amount given.

Farmer Queered the Show.

Miss Minnie Bertha Leonard will now give us some very interesting experiments in chemistry, showing the carboniferous character of many ordinary substances, after which she will entertain us with a short treatise on astronomy and illustration of the geological formation of certain substances and close with a brief essay entitled, "Philosophy vs Rationalism." Thus spoke the president of a young lady's seminary on the class show day.

A hard-headed old-fashioned farmer happened to be among the examining board, and he electrified and paralyzed the faculty and paralyzed Miss Minnie by asking:

"Kin Miss Minnie tell me how much sixteen and three-fourths pounds of beef would come to at fifteen and a half cents a pound?"

"Why, really, I—I!"—gasped Miss Minnie.

"Kin you tell me who's the vice-president of the United States?"

"Why—C—I—Mr. B—, isn't he? Or is it—"

"Kin you tell me where the Mississippi rises and sets?"

"I—I—don't just know."

"I reckon ye don't. Gimme the good old days when gals and boys went to school to learn sense."—Our Dumb Animals.

Marked For Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bae, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Frank T. Clay's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Gumption on the Farm.

The farmer gets his crop out of the ground, his money out of the crop, and his pleasure out of the money.

Last call to fix up that pump so it won't freeze!

The open-air treatment is good for consumptives but it isn't beneficial for farming machinery or tools.

The Chinese try hard to pay all debts before New Year's day; and it is a mighty good plan for all farmers to follow.

If the wire fences are tightly strung, loosen the wires somewhat to prevent their being snapped by frost. Do it to-morrow.

Did you ever stop to reflect that a cat or a dog loves its home just as well as, or perhaps better than, you do? Then don't take it away, unless you give it a better home.

Anxiety is the worst feeling in the world; yet men who stay late in town, or who loaf long in the saloons never know the worry of the watching, waiting wife or mother.

Work up all old fence rails, useless boards, dead trees and limbs out of the orchard into stove wood. This will keep the farm free of litter and help solve the fuel question.

Give the boys something practical, such as a box of Carpenter's tools a soldering set, or a drawing outfit instead of guns, drums and toy pistols. Teach creative not destructive force.

When a man gets so rich or so high in society that he is ashamed of his bent old mother in her plaid shawl, and of her lack of grammar, he is too snobbish for honest men to trust out.

Don't fight yourself in the evening when you are sleepy after the day's work is done. Just lean back in your chair and take a few winks of sleep. Then when you wake up you can read and think a great deal better.

Have you saved a little money this year? Invest some of it in the old farm; do something to make the place better. You could have no better bank than your own farm. Every dollar thus invested will come back with tenfold interest.

If a farmer wishes to find out the amount of corn he has on the ear, multiply the length of crib in feet by width in feet, and divide by two and one-fourth. The easiest way to divide by two and one-fourth is to multiply by four and divide by nine.

It is very annoying to telephone subscribers to find during the very busy hour in the evening, when they want to use the phone, that some young couple is sparking over the wire, or somebody else is holding a long, gossipy conversation. Some people use the telephone almost any time for almost anything.—From December Farm Journal.

RATIONAL CURE FOR ECZEMA

No More Dosing the Stomach—
Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it and cleanse it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a festering wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

The fact that eczema is a skin disease and not a blood disease is evident from the statistics which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If the eczema patients were really sufferers from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prove immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using oil of wintergreen as compounded in D D D Prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, numbing them while building up the healthy tissues of the skin. have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence.

Bryan Buys Texas Land.

Brownsville, Texas, Dec.—William J. Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, reached Brownsville on his return from Mexico, where Mr. Bryan has been hunting for several weeks. Mr. Bryan was greeted here by one of the largest crowds which has ever assembled in the Rio Grande valley.

After a reception he delivered a brief address and proceeded to the La Para ranch, near Brownsville, where he will spend several days.

While at Mission, Texas, Mr. Bryan purchased a tract of land, on which he will plant fruit trees.

Sultan to Sell His Harem.

Madrid.—It is reported from Fez that the Moroccan Imperial harem is about to change hands.

Abdul Aziz bought the 200 fair Circassians of which it consists from a French agent of Tangier. These Circassians are women of great beauty and immense value. But they are correspondingly expensive to keep and the sultan offered it for sale to his brother, Muhyi Haffid, several weeks ago. His brother is enormously rich, and, as his harem consists of only ten wives, it is believed that a bargain will be struck.

The consideration, it is said is $100,000, thus placing a value of $500 on each of the wives.

AFTER THE GRIPPE

Vinol Restored This Man's

Strength

"Several years ago I was attacked by a severe case of gripple, which left me with a hacking cough, soreness in my chest, and bronchitis. I took nearly every kind of cough syrup sold on the market, besides medicine given me by physicians.

I received no permanent relief until my druggist asked me to try Vinol, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured.

I believe Vinol to be the greatest blessing ever offered to the public, as it does what is claimed for it." R. E. R. Hicks, Maplesville, Ala.

The reason Vinol cures chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary troubles is because it contains tonic iron and all the healing and body building elements of cod liver oil but no oil.

Vinol is also unexcelled as a strength builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, and after sickness.
